

Changing Life Chances: practical projects and endeavours in schools

Robin Richardson

Trentham Books, ISBN: 9781858564937
100 pages, A4, June 2013, £16.99

Click this link to view the text in PDF
<http://www.insted.co.uk/changing-life-chances.pdf>

Changing Life Chances provides practical guidance for the recently introduced pupil premium grant aimed at helping schools to improve the life chances of children and young people from lower-income households in England. It offers examples of effective practice for how best to use the grant and is relevant also to the requirements of the Equality Act 2010.

The book distills the ideas and initiatives of the national programme known as Narrowing the Gap. Most of the projects it describes are about Derbyshire County Council's initiative as part of this programme. It is a follow-up to Derbyshire's publications by the same author entitled Here, There and Everywhere (2004) and Holding Together (2009).

Contents

Introduction and summary

1) My experience was life-changing - background and subject-matter of this book

Part 1: Setting the scene

2) 'I balanced all, brought all to mind' - the concept of due regard

3) Excellence, intelligence, kind feeling - beliefs about people, schools and society

4) What then shall we do? - practical options and possibilities

Part 2: Literacy for the twenty-first century

5) Proud of myself and very cheerful - the power of community radio

6) Some amazing success stories - extending the definition of literacy

7) Writing for life - gender, identity and growing up

8) Words, words, words - highways and byways to curriculum language

9) It's not just any old discussion - talking to learn

10) Engaging with difference - research, performance and key concepts

REVIEW

To see a review by Peter D'Sena of Changing Life Chances, click here:
<http://leftcentral.org.uk/2012/11/15/book-reviewchanging-life-chances-practical-projects-and-endeavours-in-schools-by-robin-richardson-published-by-derbyshire-county-council-and-trentham-books-2012-pp-92/>